

ASSEMBLY BILL 99.

The Chronicle in its fight against Assembly bill 99, which provides that the Sheriffs and County Clerks of counties shall supervise the legal advertising, commits itself to a series of false statements and inconsistencies. In the first place it says it passed the Assembly by one vote. After a long discussion there were but four votes against it.

When it tells of the autocratic powers given the officials it assumes that every Sheriff and County Clerk in the State is a scoundrel and black-mailer.

The law has been in operation in Indiana, Illinois, New York, California and several other States in the Union for years and there has never been the slightest complaint against it.

To see a still more glowing inconsistency one has but to glance at the columns of the Chronicle and see the bill in practical operation. The legal notices in the Chronicle are signed "W. H. Tully clerk," or "James Quirk Sheriff."

Since matters are being managed in Storey exactly as they would continue to be if the bill became a law the Chronicle, in whose columns this plan is in such successful operation, is the loudest opponent.

The Bill is to place the responsibility of the work with some competent officer whose duty it shall be to attend to it. Now it is nobody's business and half the legal notices are not advertised as the law requires. In many counties the lawyers have usurped an authority not given them by law and they invariably use it to cut down the legal rates, and the press loses the difference between the lawyers rates and the legal rates which go into the pockets of the shyster, and it is the shyster lawyers who are behind the papers now fighting the bill.

The bill will take the press out of the clutches of the shysters and give paper legal rates. Not a single argument has ever been brought against the bill which will hold water.

A law which has prevailed for years in nearly all the States of the Union can safely be tried here.

The Chronicle says: The Constitution of Nevada prohibits all special legislation. That the Boston bill is special legislation of the worst character needs no lawyer to so determine.

Now two years ago the Enterprise and Chronicle lobbied a bill through the Legislature which prevented the Comstock mining delinquent sales from being printed in any paper outside of Storey county. Since then they have charged four times the rates which other State papers charge.

It was a rank piece of special legislation for those two journals, and the stockholders of mines have to pay for it.

It is proposed to do away with this by a bill which will allow any paper in Nevada to publish the sales and break the monopoly established by that piece of special legislation, from which the Chronicle reaps the sole benefit.

It will go along with the rest of the mining reforms and economies now talked of. The Chronicle ought to give its hearty support to the repeal of this special legislation now on the Statute books, as it has just declared such legislation unconstitutional.

NEVADA'S HOPE.

Nevada is in desperate straits. Silver mining seems to be practically a thing of the past, and poverty will soon drive many miners and their families from the State. In view of these facts it is certain that attention will be turned to irrigation and agriculture. Among the various practical irrigation systems which can be inaugurated none offer more inviting fields for investment than the Truckee.

The water is here and flows to waste. The lands are lying north of Reno and produce nothing but sagebrush and coyotes. Given a ditch and a system of storage reservoirs and three thousand valuable farms would be settled and improved in a single season. There would be a rush of immigration. Reno has always been supposed to be the home of a great many wealthy and enterprising men, yet up to the present time there has been more talk than business in regard to a high line ditch. Desperation will now force the people to action. We look to see a new impetus given to the question this Summer. Truckee is indirectly interested, as nothing can be done in the matter without making lively times in this part of the country. Wake up, gentlemen of Nevada and go to work.—Salt Lake Tribune.
